Owner operated spray tanning service in San Diego announces to media their 2018 marketing strategy using social media and internet portals. The owner of Glo on the go has implemented marketing strategies proven to work for other service related business on the internet.

Jan 12 2018 Lakeside California " The already popular Lakeside spray tanning service has announced to press their marketing strategy for 2018. After review from media advisors and marketing consultants the marketing strategy for 2018 is expected to grow the business into a family name brand.

The marketing strategies includes multiple channels that work to build customer lists, grow relationships and ultimately grow the business by 10 fold. Well, that is the hope for Kelli Mclean the owner of Glo on the go San Diego.

"I have primarily utilized the amazing power of Facebook since I started offering spray tanning services in Lakeside California. Since the beginning people really took to the Facebook page that we created for Glo on the go San Diego. Now, we keep the page updated with our seasonal specials and photos of the services that we offer on a daily bases."

Glo on the go San Diego's Facebook page has grow from its humble beginning to the hundreds of dedicated fans and customers that the page has now. The progress of the sunless tanning business in Lakeside is considerable.

"Well, I cannot take all of the credit for the success of Glo on the go San Diego because really it was the fans and customers that built my little sunless spray tanning business into what you see here now. For if it was not without them there would not be a Glo on the go here in San Diego."

The spray tanning company also has a blog on their website where visitors can learn more about how the spray tanning process works and the results that can be received from using spray tanning services. While there Kelli Mclean urges visitors to visit her personal YouTube channel. Kelli has emassed quite a number of very informational videos about spray tanning.

"To be honest, much of my success is also attributed to my willingness to help people in every way that my spray tanning service can. If it was not for my sheer dedication to this industry making helpful videos I would not have grow like I have. Good old fashioned business values and hard work!"
