As the wife of a former military officer, I've seen my share of camouflage, which is maybe why I'm not always so excited about the trend. However in unexpected maroon, the camo pattern on this Appaman Puffy Coat for Kids is one that I can definitely rally behind. It doesn't appear to be waterproof but should keep your son (or daughter!) warm and dry during their typical snow day activities. Sometimes, all that glitters is gold. Well, actually shimmering metallic fabric, to be exact. The faux fur trim of this Long Down Coat from Appaman perfectly complements the holographic-like material of this all-purpose jacket.
