

JoAnne Helfert Sullam Set To Exhibit Her Work at The ArtExpo New York City

Date : Mar 26, 2018

JoAnne Helfert Sullam from Daydreams Studio will be exhibiting her work at The Art Expo New York City on April 19-22, 2018. Venue: PIER 94 711 12th Ave (55th Street & The West Side Highway) New York, NY 10019-5399.

JoAnne will be showcasing her abstract landscapes and wildlife paintings.

As the Art Expo juried show will be celebrating its 40 years, Ms.Sullam will be unveiling her latest work of art Bucky and Johnny's summer's love. The work is a statement about innocence, young love and the fragility of our inner and outer environment. The last day of the show falls on Earth Day 2018 - April 22 and the artist wants to celebrate and bring awareness of conservation by giving to guests at the show.

Â

Show guests who stop by the booth can enter the art giveaway. JoAnne will be announcing the winner of an original work of art on Earth Day, Sunday April 22 and each day of the show will have winners, such as an autograph copy of her latest book and other fun prizes.

Â

A wildlife rehabilitator, author, conservationist, and founder of Daydreams Studio, JoAnne Helfert Sullam has dedicated her life and work to conservation.

Â

JoAnne has received numerous accolades for her award-winning work. She is a recipient of a Special Congressional Recognition in the Arts. In addition, JoAnne was featured in both the New York Times and Art Business News as well as being named "Who's Who in America."
